Washington Declared to Be Soft Place for the Ready-Informa-

'The "Hop Derby" was contested at Benning yesterday and no mistake, the event coming off with the running of the second race, an affair for all ages

At least five starters went down to the post a-boiling, the winner, Agile, manifesting a desire to run around the ring once again after winning with Miller up. Strange to say, every one of the choices which acted so peculiarly attracted a select following of bettors. Each one of them received a strong, well defined play, giving the paddock observer the impression that each was serving as a

For instance, Cedarstrome was on hot tip. Many had this line of informa-tion and they either went out to the course themselves or had some one con-vey their money to the bookmakers with Cedarstrome as the magnet of investment. Many a well-known Washington sport stood lined up about Cedar-strome's stall before the race, while over at the stall of another starter could be seen a well-known Pennsylvania avenue jeweler, who had bet $200 for himself and $50 for the owner. Soft for the Touts.

After the race there were many sor-rowful faces about the paddack, for none of the "good things" participated in the number placing to any extent, as Agile, the winner, was the public choice at 8 to 5. It was an amusing thing to the real insiders who know the angles of the paddock, to whom the place was more like an apothecary's shop than anything else. "Well, there is sure one race on the square, There is not a 'lob' race on the square, there is not a 100 in the race," gleefully suggested "Farmer Bill" Scully, as he viewed the parade of the crazy acting thoroughbreds to the starting point. That the practice of stimuating racehorses is quite generally observed could not be doubted after what took place in connection with this race yesterday.

Bye the bye, a man who has the reputation of being the "highest class tout" in the world, says that there are more "boobs"—the race track name for a man or woman who will stand for a touting—in Washington, than any other city of its size in America—a very interesting fact.
